Shirland not its Alan at the top.

Alan tops the day at Shirland with an impressive 27 points. The back 9 was the best as he accumulated 11 points off the last 4 holes, equivalent to the points he had on the front 9. A run of pars helped immensely as well as striking the ball in generally the direction he was aiming. In a close second was yours truly on 26 points. Never realised mine and Alan's last puts on the 18th determined who won on the day. We just enjoyed ourselves all the way round in fine company. With Alan winning he now tops the Caratella Cup and is going to be hard to beat. What will help is that he is not coming to the next event. An opportunity for others to make a charge. In third sees Sean with 24. The top three from today hold the top three spots in the Caratella Cup. Is it going to be close or will someone spoil it for these with 4 meets to go?

What a fabulous day we had at the course was how I remembered it. It was nice to see Dave make it this time. He has finally played the course.

The weather once again was kind to us. I think there was a consensus on the breakfast being spot on, as week as the service. Just the right amount and tasted nice.

The course played very well and challenging. As you moved on from hole to hole the course got better and better. A lot of par 5's though on the front 9. Was surprised to see burn marks on the green but to be honest that didn't affect the roll, as they did run true. I think like last time, all in all a good venue, course and easy to find. Disappointing that for the second time in a row we only had 11 players playing. Only upside to that is that it shortens the day to an extent. This year though we haven't had many guests to events. I would actively encourage you to invite them. Some of you have friends that play, or in other societies. Let's get them in and fine them!

Nearest the pins were not peppered. It seems Richard was the last to go on the back 9 and hit the green. If he hadn't, then we would have had a society day of no one hitting any of the nearest the pins for the first time. A big well done to Richard. The two holes I picked were stroke index 17 and 18. The two easiest holes on the course.

We move onto the next event which is Rushden Golf Club on Sunday 18th August 2024. Please get your monies into me if you intend to go. See you there.
